2003 Local Chapter Activities:

The Carolina Chapter is based in central North Carolina and includes 51 members from local universities, private industry, and consultants.

During 2003, the chapter held 3 business meetings and 2 social events. The first business meeting of the year was an informative and fun tour of The Ergonomics Center of North Carolina, sponsored by Dr. Sharon Joines, the center's Director of Research and Education. In April, Dr. Christopher Mayhorn, Assistant Professor of Psychology at North Carolina State University, presented an interesting talk entitled "Input and Output Monitoring in Young and Older Adults."

The final business meeting of 2003 was held in November, with 3 excellent short talks on "Hospital Environments" by Dr. Michael Maddox of HumanCentric Technologies, Inc., Ms. Tamara James, and Dr. Melanie Wright, both of Duke University.

The social events were an annual summer picnic in July, and the holiday party, scheduled for Dec 13th.
